

Natural choice

Whatever your screening or fencing needs may be, natural bamboo is the answer

IF YOU ARE LOOKING FOR A NATURAL, ECO-FRIENDLY WAY TO BLOCK OUT AN unsightly view or add privacy to an outdoor entertaining area, bamboo screens are ideal. And if you are looking for a wide selection of quality bamboo screens, Bamboo Habitat's range is as extensive as it is impressive.

To offer their customers even more choice, Bamboo Habitat has just launched a new, easy-to-manage width of 1.2m. This new width, available across the complete screening range, makes the panels lighter and installation even easier. All screens, no matter what the width, can be joined for a continuous, seamless look or framed for a more structured style.

The majority of the range is now smoked using traditional firing methods. This gives the bamboo screens a wonderful earthy scent and a scorched woody-brown tone — the perfect natural backdrop to plantings or garden art.

The upmarket Moku screen, featured in the garden shown here, is comprised of 35mm full bamboo poles with 35mm sculpted hardwood timber pieces. The result is a stylish screen totally unique to Bamboo Habitat.

All Bamboo Habitat screens are strung internally with 3mm galvanised wire which ensures they stay structurally sound for around 15 years, even near salt water or in sandy and windy environments.

Depending on what you intend to use your screen for, you might like to choose one with a particular pole thickness or height. If your goal is to create a private area or your own sacred space, choose a screen made of thicker poles to maximise privacy. Bamboo Habitat also offers a personalised custom-made service should your requirements fall outside their standard range.

To complement your new bamboo screening, you will need the right decor. For this, Bamboo Habitat can direct you to its sister business, Tropical Habitat, which is located on the holiday island of Bali where you can avail yourself of a buy-direct-and-save service. You can buy direct from the website in the comfort of your own home or in person via an organised shopping tour.

Tropical Habitat has an extensive network of suppliers offering a wide choice of authentic Indonesian-made products such as garden decor, recycled timber furniture and home furnishings. Buying is fun and easy and shipping can be arranged on your behalf.
